Purpose of This Tax Guide

This tax guide provides some basic information about the tax forms you have received or that may be mailed to you later this year. The information on pages 5-12 lists the various tax forms, who will receive them, and when the forms are required to be mailed. We have included a detailed explanation of each tax form, frequently asked questions and answers, and where to go for further information.

Although this guide may assist you in preparing your tax return, it is not designed to provide specific tax advice or guidance. Given the scope and complexity of our tax laws, you should consult your tax or financial advisor who may have knowledge of your personal financial history and who can best assist you in preparing your tax return.

Tax Items of Interest for 2008

The Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008

"The focus of the Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (The Act), signed into law by President Bush on, October 3, 2008, was to assist the U.S. financial markets in resolving the current economic crisis. That legislation additionally included a number of provisions which significantly impact the mutual fund industry.

The Act extended several tax provisions which had expired on 12/31/2007. The following two provisions have been extended through December 31, 2009.

- IRA shareholders who have attained the age of 70 ½ years or older are allowed to make tax-free contributions of up to $100,000 to qualified charitable organizations. This option exists for certain SEP and SIMPLE IRA shareholders as well. Please note that the distribution must be made payable directly to the charitable organization.
- Qualified interest income and short-term capital gain distributions paid to certified foreign shareholders are exempt from Non-Resident Alien (NRA) withholding.

The most noteworthy provision of the Act requires mutual funds to report cost basis information for shares purchased on or after January 1, 2012. Shareholders will generally be required to use the cost basis information provided by the mutual fund for shares purchased on or after that effective date. Eligible accounts currently have their cost basis tracked using the IRS single-category average cost method.

The long-term or short-term designation of a gain/loss associated with a redemption (or exchange) of mutual fund shares is required under the Act, beginning with the 2012 tax year. For your benefit, that gain/loss information will be incorporated into the Average Cost statement you receive in conjunction with your 2008 1099-B tax form, if applicable.

The Act generally extends the deadline for reporting 1099-B tax form information from January 31st to February 15th. The 15-day reporting extension is applicable beginning with the 2008 tax year.

The Pension Protection Act (PPA) –

PPA was enacted into law on August 17, 2006. This Act allows for up to $100,000 per year in “qualified charitable distributions” from an IRA to be excluded from gross income. Shareholders who are 70 1/2 or older may take tax-free distributions from their IRA and donate up to $100,000 to qualified charities. Charitable organizations are further described in the IRS Code under section 170(b) and within IRS Publication 526.

PPA makes permanent the EGTRRA contribution limit, catch-up contribution, retirement plan portability and Saver tax credit provisions that would have expired after 2010.

Income restrictions for deductible Traditional IRA contributions and for Roth IRA eligibility will be adjusted for inflation using an IRS cost-of-living adjustment.

Beginning in 2008, qualified employer sponsored retirement plan assets will be allowed to convert directly to a Roth IRA.

PPA guardsmen and reservists are able to take penalty-free distributions from IRAs and qualified retirement plans, and repay the amount to an IRA, within two years following their period of active duty.

Furthermore, PPA allows non-spouse beneficiaries to roll inherited qualified retirement plan assets into inherited IRAs.

Qualified Dividends – A portion of ordinary income that is paid to you may represent Qualified Dividend Income (QDI) earned by the fund. This amount may be taxed at a lower rate. QDI is defined as dividends from domestic corporations and qualified foreign corporations that meet certain requirements under current tax law. The rate on qualified dividend income is 15% for most taxpayers and 5% for those in the lowest income tax bracket. See box 1b titled “Qualified Dividends” of your 2008 Form 1099-DIV for applicable totals from your fund.

Please see the instructions for forms 1040/1040A for more information on how to report these dividend totals.

Maximum Contribution Limits – Taxpayers can contribute up to the amounts listed below for the 2008 tax year. “Catch-up” contributions, for those shareholders age 50 or over on December 31, 2008 are also provided below.

2008	Contribution	“Catch-Up”
Traditional IRA	$5,000	$1,000
Roth IRA	$5,000	$1,000
SEP IRA	$46,000*	$5,000
SIMPLE IRA	$10,500	$2,500
Coverdell Education Savings (CESA)	$2,000	N/A

*or the lesser of 25% of your 2008 compensation

Retirement Savings Contribution Credit – Taxpayers may be able to take a tax credit, which can reduce your tax liability dollar for dollar, for contributions to a qualified retirement plan, an eligible deferred compensation plan, or to a traditional or Roth IRA. A credit of up to 50% of the amount contributed is available, if your modified adjusted gross income is below certain thresholds.

TAX FORMS

Form 1099-DIV

Purpose - Reports all dividend and capital gain earned from distributions (cash or reinvested) on non-retirement accounts. If there were no taxable capital gain or dividend distributions, you will not receive a 1099-DIV. 1099-DIV information is reported on either IRS Form 1040, Schedule B or Form 1040A, Schedule 1. Your capital gain may be reported on Schedule D. See the instructions for filing Schedule D. You will not receive a Form 1099-DIV if your total dividends for a fund are less than $10 as the IRS does not require you to report those dividends on your tax return.

Who Will Receive It? - Individuals, trusts, estates, partnerships and certain other institutions. Retirement plan accounts will NOT receive this form.

Required Mailing Date - February 2, 2009

Box 1a: Reports total ordinary dividends, including short-term capital gains (will include amount from box 1b)

Box 2: Rollovers and transfers made during 2008

Special Tax Considerations

Cost Basis Statements

Shareholders who took a distribution from their mutual fund accounts may receive an Average Cost Basis Statement. Retirement plan accounts or those accounts which have had a change of ownership or control will not receive an Average Cost Basis Statement.

In addition to fund and shareholder registration information, your statement will show:

- Trade date
- Number of shares redeemed
- Redemption price
- Redemption proceeds
- Average cost basis
- Gain (loss)

The dollar amount of your gain (loss) is calculated by using the IRS-approved "Average Cost-Single Category" method of accounting. Cost basis is a way of measuring the dollar amount of your investment for tax purposes. The basis of stocks, bonds and mutual fund shares includes acquisition cost, commissions and fees paid, as well as other adjustments. The Average Cost-Single Category method uses an average basis of shares you own, taking into consideration those shares acquired at different times with different prices. For example, a shareholder makes three share purchases: 100 shares on 1/2/08 at $10.00 per share, 100 shares on 6/1/08 at $12.00 per share and 100 shares on 12/1/08 at $20.00 per share. The 300 shares purchased cost a total of $4,200. The average cost per share is $14.00 ($4,200 divided by 300 shares.) If you sell 150 shares, the basis of those shares sold is $2,100 (150 shares multiplied by $14.00 average cost per share)

A wash sale transaction occurs when you sell shares at a loss and purchase new shares (including reinvested dividends) in the same fund within a 61 day period, beginning 30 days prior to the sale and ending 30 days after the sale. With wash sales, you may not be able to claim some or all of the capital loss immediately. The amount of any postponed loss is added back to the cost basis of the remaining shares you own. When you eventually sell those shares, your average cost will reflect the postponed loss amount.

Before you elect to use the average cost basis statement for reporting purposes, you should consider the several ways to calculate the cost basis of shares sold. Please consult with your tax advisor to determine whether or not the average cost basis method is the most advantageous method for your specific financial situation.

Dividends from U.S. Government Obligations

Some states do not tax their residents on mutual fund income received that is earned directly from U.S. Government obligations. Short-term capital gain distributions, although treated as ordinary income are not eligible for state tax-exemption. A statement may accompany your Form 1099-DIV indicating the percentage of income your fund earned that was attributable directly to U.S. Government obligations.

Alternative Minimum Tax

The Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) was created to prevent excessive use of tax deductions and credits. Its goal is to ensure that individuals who benefit from these deductions pay a minimum amount of federal income tax. Refer to the instructions for Form 1040 or Form 6251 to determine if this tax applies to you.

The AMT calculation begins with your regular taxable income and adjusts for certain “tax-preference” items. One of these “tax-preference” items that would be added back to your regular taxable income is tax-exempt interest from private activity bonds. Private activity bonds are municipal bonds issued to benefit private, for-profit operations. If you own shares of a fund that invests in private activity bonds, you must include that portion of the funds distributions that are attributable to private activity bonds as a “tax-preference” item in your AMT calculation. If a fund invests in private activity bonds, a letter will generally be sent that reports to its shareholders the amount of distributions subject to the AMT.

Capital Losses

Taxpayers who redeemed mutual fund shares at a capital loss during the year may be able to use those losses to offset other capital gains or in some cases ordinary income. The IRS has created several rules in order to discourage loss-oriented selling. Two of these rules are:

Wash Sales

If you purchase shares of a mutual fund (including reinvested dividends) within 30 days before or after you redeemed shares of the same mutual fund for a loss, the redemption will be considered a “wash sale” and some or all of your capital loss will be deferred. The amount of your deferred loss increases the cost basis of the shares purchased which created the wash sale. When those shares are subsequently sold the deferred loss is then allowed. Please consult your tax advisor for more information about wash sale rules.

Long-Term Capital Gain Distributions

Capital gain distributions from a mutual fund are generally reported as long-term capital gains regardless of how long you owned shares in a fund. However, if you owned shares for less than six months, received a capital gain on these shares, and sold them at a loss, part or all of the loss on the sale of the shares (which would normally be short-term based on the holding period) may be recharacterized as long term instead. The amount of the loss equal to or less than the capital gain distribution is the amount which will be recharacterized as long term. The amount of the loss greater than the capital gain distribution remains short term. See IRS Publication 564 or consult a tax advisor before making this calculation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q - How can I get duplicate tax forms?

A - After February 1, 2009, you can contact U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC to receive duplicate copies of your tax forms.

Q - Will I receive an Average Cost Basis Statement?

A - You should receive an Average Cost Basis Statement if you meet ALL of the following criteria:

-You redeemed shares from a non-IRA account in 2008

-You received Form 1099-B

-Your account was opened after January 1, 1987

Average Cost Basis Statements are mailed by February 2, 2009, in conjunction with Form 1099-B. There are certain situations such as transfers of shares which may prevent you from receiving a cost basis statement. Please contact U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC to inquire about your specific account.

Q - How will Roth conversions be shown on tax forms?

A - They will be shown on Form 5498, box 3 and on Form 1099-R, box 1 and 2a and distribution code 2 or 7 in box 7

Q - At what point can I no longer recharacterize a Roth IRA for 2008?

A - A Roth IRA can be recharacterized through October 15, 2009.

Q - How will Roth IRA recharacterizations be shown on tax forms?

A - Recharacterizations will be shown as a gross distribution on Form 1099-R, box 7, with code N for current year and code R for prior year. Form 5498 will show the recharacterized amount in box 4.

Q - What is a capital gain distribution and how is that different from a capital gain that is incurred when shares of my account are sold?

A - A Fund Capital Gain Distribution can occur when a fund buys and sells stocks and other securities within the fund's portfolio. This activity may create a net capital gain for the fund. This capital gain distribution is taxable for non-IRA accounts. A Shareholder Capital Gain occurs when the shareholder sells shares for a gain in a taxable, non-IRA, non-money market account.

Q - Do I have to report reinvested capital gains & dividends on a non-IRA account?

A - Yes, capital gain and dividend distributions are considered income in the year they are distributed regardless whether they are paid in cash or reinvested. The amount of the reinvested dividends and capital gains are then added to the cost basis when a redemption occurs. This is to avoid being taxed twice on the same dollars.

Q - Why are SEP and SIMPLE contributions that were made in 2009 for the 2008 tax year on Form 5498?

A - IRS rules state that only contributions made to a SEP and SIMPLE IRA during the calendar year are to be reported on Form 5498. Only contributions made during the 2008 calendar year will be reported on the 2008 Form 5498, regardless of which tax year those contributions were directed.

Q - Why was there withholding on my account?

A - Generally there is withholding because the fund did not have a signed application or IRS Form W-9 on file, or the IRS has instructed the fund to withhold on distributions made from your account.

Q - Do I have to report capital gains and dividends on an IRA account?

A - No, if they were reinvested in the same IRA. Yes, if taken as a cash distribution.

Q - What tax forms are mailed to nonresident aliens?

A - Form 1042-S is mailed to nonresident aliens who received capital gain and/or dividend distributions on their account in 2008. A nonresident alien is not a US citizen.

Q - Where can I get more information on completing my tax return?

A - Please refer to the Additional Resources section in this tax guide for more information, or consult a tax advisor.
